You!

can make a difference!

Join the Friends of the San Pedro River. Your modest dues will help, and your membership will increase our impact in the community. You will be helping to save our river for future generations.

The Friends of the San Pedro River is a nonprofit organization that assists the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) care for and interpret the San Pedro Riparian National Conservation Area.

The Conservation Area with the San Pedro River forms an isolated green corridor in the desert. The river and surrounding conservation lands shelter many kinds of animals and plants.

Many birds migrate through the Conservation Area between the tropics and temperate North America. The American Bird Conservancy has designated the Conservation Area as a Globally Important Area.

The Conservation Area also has important historical sites dating from the Clovis era 13,000 years ago, Spanish settlement in the 1700s, and the “Wild West” mining and ranching era of the late 1800s.

During a recent year, the Friends provided 207 environmental & historical events to about 2,000 people. These events included interpretive walks, bird walks, history walks, hikes, and special events such as festivals. The Friends’ education program provided information to 700 students. The Friends operate information centers and gift shops in the San Pedro House and Fairbank Schoolhouse and help maintain these buildings.

Members receive benefits such as guided tours, social events, talks about natural and human history of the area, discounts on gift shop purchases, and a newsletter.
